Left: Charles Jones, senior, dances to an upbeat and fast paced song by the Black Eyed Peas. Other dances were so impresed by his skill that they cleared a space on the dance floor just for him. He got many compliments after his dance number.

Bottom: The Miss Maroon Court sits at the Hobo Day Assembly with their escorts. The young ladies were introduced one by one, acknowledging their achievements both academic and extra-curricular, by English teacher Mr. Nick Johnson. They walked down a red carpet to the stage.

Top Left: Grading exams became much easier this year because the school recently purchased Grade Cams. These cameras that were mounted on wooden platforms by the shop students enable teachers to print out scantron sheets that already have student names on them. To grade these scantrons, a teacher simply slides the sheet under the camera, the camera photographs it, and instantly marks the numbers wrong on the computer screen and gives a score with a percentage. English teacher Mrs. Julie Spriggs uses her new grade cam to quickly and efficiently scan student exams. She says, "I like the new Grade Cam for short quizzes because it gives students quick feedback since we can go over it in class right away." Middle Right: Students pose for a group photo at the study day and recharge with some coffee. Right: Mr. Richardson helps two students with science.

Exam Stress

Students each semester face the ordeal of taking final exams. Often, these exams involve an entire week's worth of studying and review.

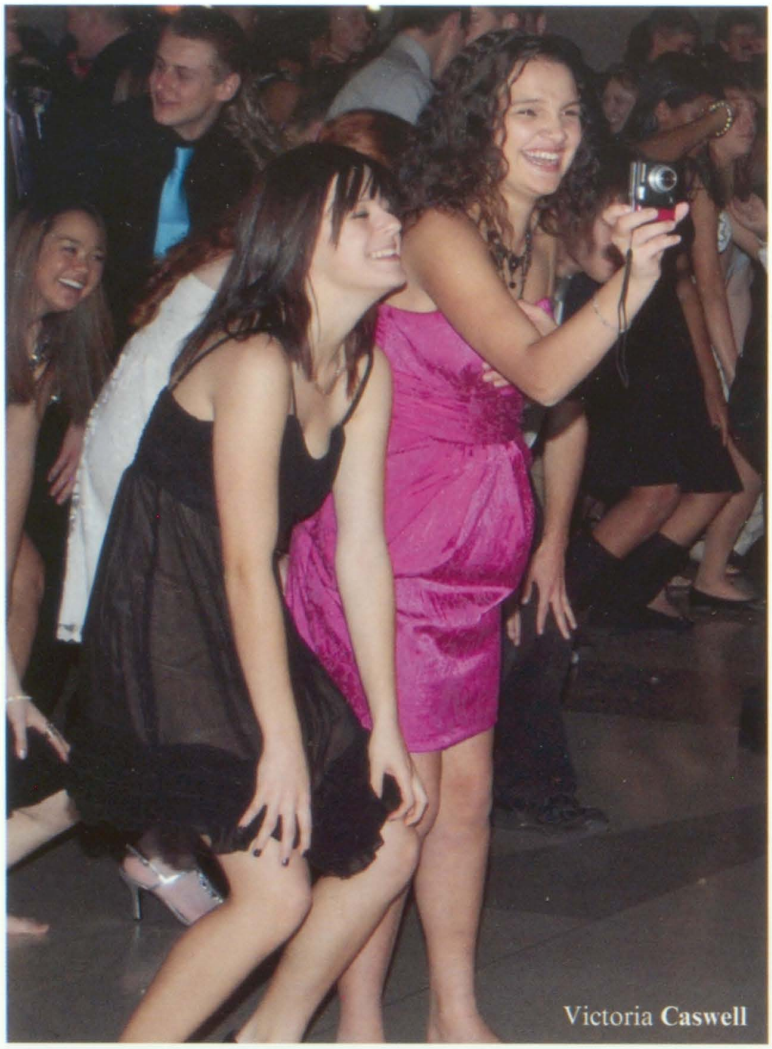

This fall semester, students had the opportunity to attend a study session at the Belleville Public Library. The entire library on the Saturday before finals was reserved for Belleville West students only. Students formed study groups, were given brain food such as granola bars, cheese, bagels, water.

Students also formed study groups, and teachers were on duty to assist in any way they could. Math teacher Jennifer Stauffer, social studies teacher Brandon Woodrome, English teacher Pat Matysik, science teacher Jerry Richardson assisted librarians Mary Barteau and Connie Culbertson in helping students. A total of 69 students attended. The exams were made less stressful for some by this opportunity.

Right: Freshman Adam Voelker shows off his dance moves. He was dancing to Michael Jackson's "Smooth Criminal." He was one of few that was brave enough to showcase his dancing.

Back to Basics

The Black and White Winter Ball

This year's winter ball decorations were themed in black and white. The students, however, dressed in a multidude of color. For example, sophomore Becca Cole is featured wearing a sequined teal dress.

The dance started at 6:30, and the DJ played music until the it ended. Some of the music featured the artists: The Black Eyed Peas, Ke$ha, Katy Perry, and Jay-Z.

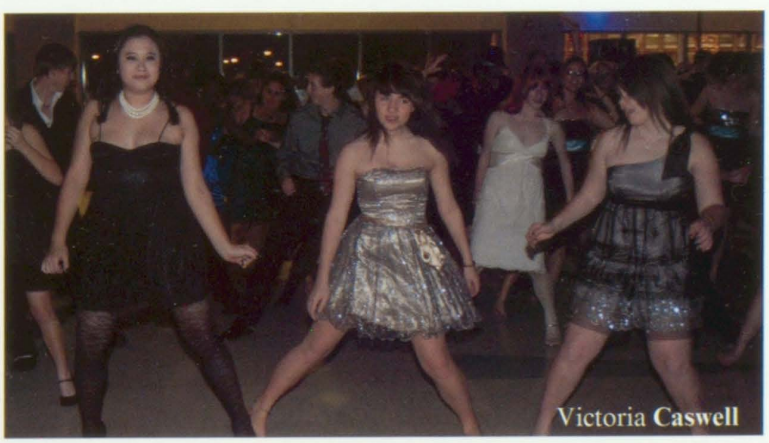

Students also participated in group dances such as the Cha-Cha Slide. Other students were inspired to dance by their favorite dancers such as the late Michael Jackson.

It is often an unsaid tradition to take off your shoes while dancing. Most young ladies did this to avoid dancing in high heels.

Students could refresh themselves with bottled water and chips.

The Student Council did a nice job decorating the cafeteria the night before.

As One Door Closes, Another One Opens

2010-2011 Retirees and New Teachers

Indvidualized Education teacher Karen Sieron has been at West High School for many years. She was the first teacher in her department to pilot the Learning Strategies classes which enable students with IEPs to have a half or whole hour to organize their daily work and get extra help with course material.

Paraprofessional Ann Herzing has had the priviledge of working with Karen for 13 continuous years. She says about Karen, "Karen was a special teacher to so many. She TRULY was an advocate for the kids. She had their best interest in mind."

One of her former students, Darien Rainey says, "My most memorable moment in Ms. Sieron's class was when I freaked out about my algebra test and she calmed me down. It was so funny."

As Ms. Sieron ends her years as an instructor, she states that if she has "helped at least one student overcome adversity, she will feel fulfilled as a teacher." Many faculty members and students alike will also remember Ms. Sieron because of her wardrobe. She always portrayed a professionalism in her dress that was beyond compare. She also had a large variety of shoes that she matched perfectly to her outfits.

As Ms. Sieron retires, many students and faculty will miss her.

Above: Ms. Mennerick teaches her students how to solve for "x" in algebra. She student-taught at Belleville West, but since there were no math openings last year, she taught at another school. Ms. Mennerick jumped at the opportunity to come back to be a math teacher her.

Above: Ms. Wellen teaches her students about chemistry. Ms. Wellen does not actually just teach for West; she travels to the East campus as well, and teaches there for a few hours.

Left: Ms. Harris says of her mentee, "We've learned so much from each other this year. Robyn is already an established teacher and has brought with her lots of great things to the classroom."

Right: Ms. Schmieg says about her mentee, Ms. Mennerick, "I can tell she loves her students because she is so enthusiastic about helping them learn and succeed in all of her classes."

Snapshots of

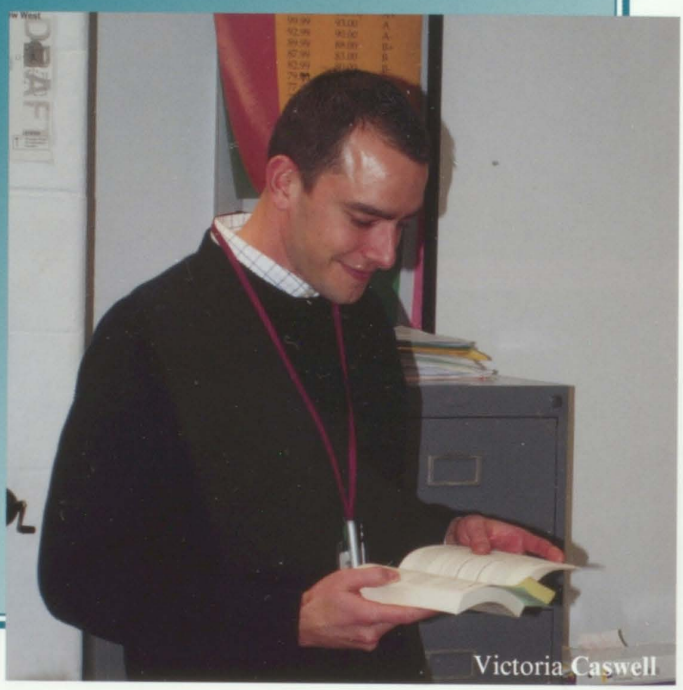

Mr. Mark Halwachs

My favorite high school memories are when "I met my wife in biology class and when i attended the state high school football champoinship game."

Mr. Andy Brunner

I became a teacher after "I went to college to study physics/engineering, but i started writing more and more. Eventually, I determined that my physics equations were no longer as inspiring as the written word. I changed my major to journalism and decided to teach writing literature."

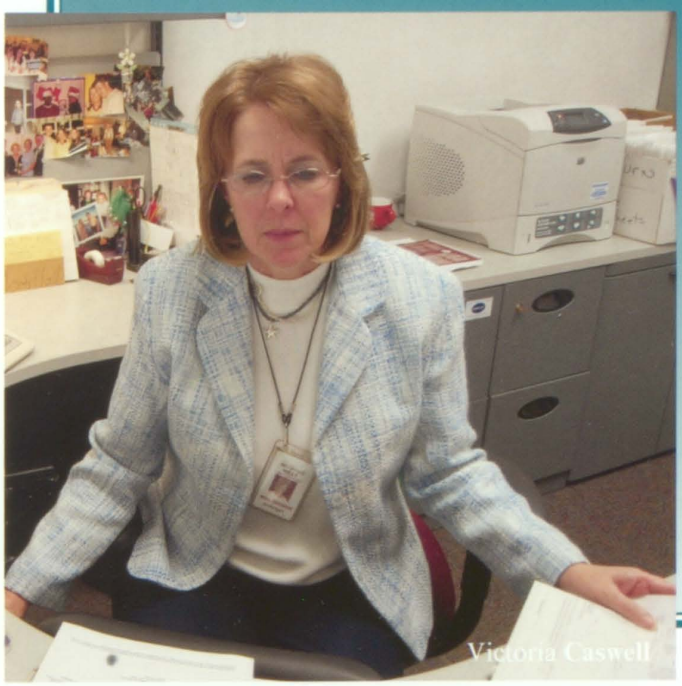

Ms. Molly Mernick

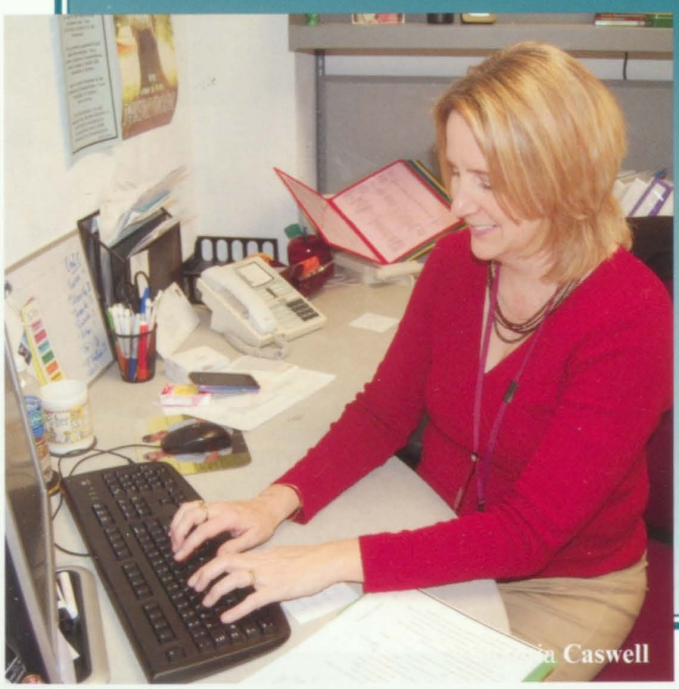

My favorite high school memory is when "I had lunch in the Hy News office that was more like a closet at the old Belleville West."

West Faculty

Ms. Robin Dronen

My favorite high school memory was when "I was nominated for Miss Maroon. It caught me completely off-guard. I did not win, but to know my classmates had noticed my behind-the-scenes works was very rewarding."

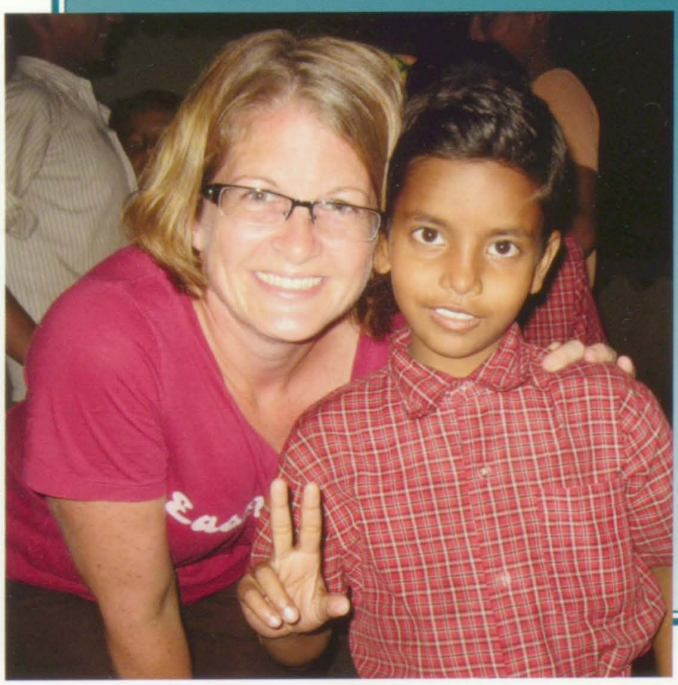

Ms. Michelle Washburn

My favorite high school memory is "when my cross country team qualified for state. We thought we hadn't made it and found out the following Monday that there had been an error in scoring."

Ms. Jennifer Roberts

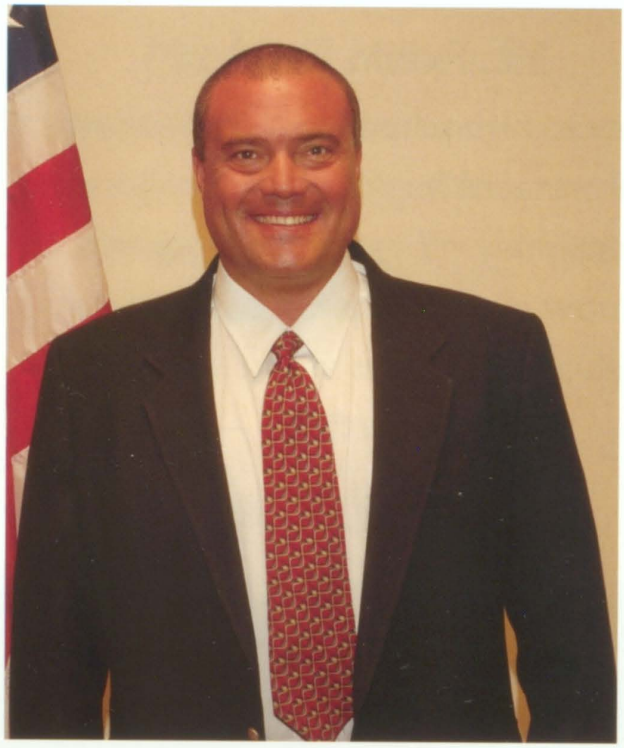

My favorite part of teaching is "when I get opportunities to visit schools in other countries like India to professionally develop myself as an instructor. I feel it adds greater depth to my instruction and my value as a teacher."

Love of the Literary

Students give up time to Volunteer at the library

The library is the one spot in the school that guarantees students a quiet environment to sit and study, read, and maybe even enjoy a nice cup of coffee.

If a student is in need, the librarians at the circulation desk are always willing and able to jump in and help. Most people never think about who the librarians go to when they're in need of help, however. During lunch hours, Belleville West students volunteer in the library as student workers.

Current student worker Amanda Wood, Junior certainly does her part in the library. "Our main job is shelving books, but when the librarians get too overwhelmed we're right there to help with anything they need." Wood said. Amanda Wood, like many student workers, gives up half of her lunch hour to team with the librarians to keep the library running smoothly. Not only do library student workers work during lunch, but many work before school at the school's cafe, the Thinking Cup.

Without the teamwork of librarians and student workers, the library wouldn't be able to be the quite, peaceful, learning mecca we all know and love.

Behind the Bookstore

The Life and Times of a Textbook

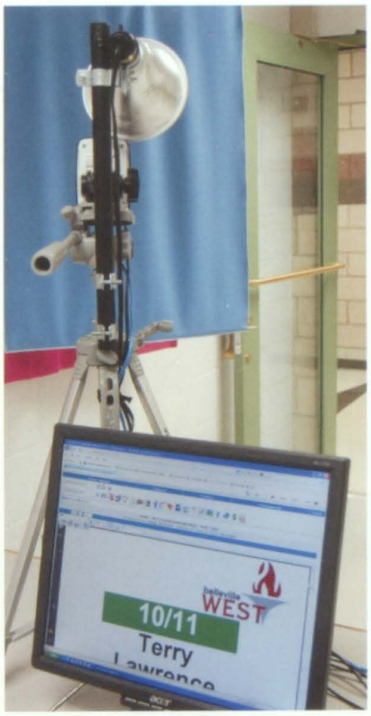

The Belleville West Bookstore is a nonstop machine that serves several purposes, such as accounting for over 13,000 textbooks for the student body. Also, the bookstore distributes student ID's, P.E. uniforms, hats, hoodies, parking permits, and tickets to various West functions.

On a typical day, over 50 students end up going to the bookstore for a temporary ID, and another 15 for a new ID. Bookstore keeper Nancy Bergmann handles all of the bookstore stresses in a timely manner, getting students back to class as quickly as possible.

The bookstore is one of the few places in Belleville West that remains open all year long. Even during the summer, where the fast pace of the bookstore seems to double, Mrs. Bergman and students work diligently to check in old books and recieve new ones for the incoming Freshmen class. All of those new books have to be registered for student use in the upcoming fall.

If we did not have this nonstop machine working throughout the year, then West would be able to function smoothly.

Right: Mrs. Casper-Bassler's 1st hour class poses with their sketch books. The books were on display in the library.

Above and Right: Ibiyimka Alao stands in front of his art work. He painted this piece. Alao states about his art: "I draw, paint and write about whatever I'm able to find, feel and sometimes understand. I feel that it is healthier to look out at the world through a window than through a mirror. Otherwise, all you see is yourself and whatever is behind you."

Express Yourself

Visual Art Club

This year Mrs. Casper-Bassler's graphic design students created their own sketch books. They had the freedom to express themselves through the books. They spent countless weeks creating the book, and in the end, they all turned out perfectly representing the creators.

Art Club this year also had a visitor from Africa; Nigeria's Ambassador of Art, Ibiyimka Alao came to speak personally about his own work. He impressed upon the art students that it is vital to represent yourselves honestly. Art club co-president Evan Bruce states, "[Alao] was one of the most moving speakers I have ever had the pleasure of seeing." Many of the other audience members felt the same way.

Art club also created a giant shoe for Key Club. Students would donate lightly-worn shoes to a philanthropist who would trade the shoes in for water for African families. The giant shoe received a lot of attention from both faculty and students alike.

This year, in an effort to channel more modern art, the club is planning on collecting bottle caps to create a pop-art piece for one of the walls in the school building.

They are also plan on taking a trip to Chicago to see the art museum and tour the city for artistic inspiration.

Tale as Old as Time

The Children's Play: Beauty and the Beast

Each year, West puts on the Children's play, which allows grade schools around the area to come and experience High-School theater.

The Children's play this year was the classic tale of "Beauty and The Beast." While actors display their hard work and dedication on stage for the audience, the show could not exist without the unseen devotion of the behind-the-scenes crew, or "techies."

"Techies are a vital part of any live performance." Junior, Gabriela Zamfir said. From lighting, to costumes, to special effects and props, every little detail that makes each production spectacular is because of the back-stage crew.

The techies make every show run smoothly and make sure the cast gets through each performance with as few problems as possible. The Children's show this year certainly posed some interesting challenges for the techies. "I worked costumes, and had to help actors with costume changes quite often." Zamfir said, "A team of two or three of us had about two minutes to change Belle (played by sophomore, Nadaley Wilson) from a pink dress she wore in the previous scene into a five piece ball-gown. It was really rough at first, but when we all worked together, the change went perfectly."

The unseen heroes of theater are truly the techies. When something goes awry backstage, the crew will be ready to save the show.

Laughing in the Limelight

The Fall Play

The Fall Play is the first major production at West. This year, the play was "Lend Me A Tenor," the story of an Italian opera singer named Tito Merelli , who is scheduled to perform at a fund raiser for the Cleveland Opera Company.

Unfortunately, Merelli overdoses on medication when his wife Maria leaves him after mistaking an autograph-seeker for a secret lover. Opera House Manager Saunders, Believing Merelli has died, then asks his less-than-confident assistant Max to impersonate the superstar and save the show. What follows is a hilarious string of mishaps and adventures that left the Belleville West audience doubled over with laughter.

The show would not have been success had it not been for the teamwork and unity of the cast. "The entire cast really becomes incredibly close, which makes acting so much easier." Junior, Jorden Guldner said.

Just like any family, the cast of the fall play helped each other to make the show the best it could be. Without closeness and unity, the cast wouldn't be able to perform to the best of their ability.

"I love that we're all so close. We play off each other which adds a dynamic to the show that wouldn't be there otherwise." Guldner said. "I'm so glad to have the experience. I love being a part of my Fall Play 'family.'"

Underground Railroad

Harambee's February Performance

This year's Harambee performance during Black History month featured a walk through time that travelled the path of the Underground Railroad that enabled slaves to escape to the North.

The Harambee usually meets months before their most notable performance in February to come up with a theme that embodies that year's group and the theme of black history.

This year's captains along with sponsor Ms. Carnetta Chalmers guided the students through the difficult process of show choreography, music, and singing.

The Harambee step team performed in the February show. They are always a crowd favorite. The performance had a segment with beautiful costuming where Harambee depicted slaves picking cotton and singing.

Interpretative dance was also a part of the show. Brianna Schaefer came up with the dance routine for this segment.

The narrators of the show were Brinique Woodcock and Mary Dain.

Harambee offerred matinee, shortened shows to West classes during the lunch hours. Many teachers took the opportunity to see the group perform.

The night performance was the full version, and many family, faculty, and students attended.

The group could not have pulled this off without their motto of, "Let's all pull together."

Hot off the Press

Hy News: The Student Newspaper

From the desk of the editor-in-chief, this article shows how to put together a 16-page issue of Hy News in 3-4 weeks.

1. Have all members of the art, business, photo, and reporting staffs meet every Tuesday and Thursday mornings to discuss the progress of the paper. Have staff members and editors brainstorm for story ideas.

2. Next, each section of the paper (e.g. news, features, sports) has its own editor. Have each editor responsible for assigning stories to reporters, assigning photos and art to the photography and art staff, and planning the overall look of the section's pages.

3. Give reporters about two weeks to interview sources and write their stories. They then turn stories into their respective editors who correct the stories and forward them to the editor-in-chief or return them to the reporters for revisions.

4. Then, the weekend before the paper is distributed, have all of the editors come up to the Hy News Office to eat food and listen to music while laying out the pages. Laying out the pages includes putting all art, photos, and text onto the actual pages the student body eventually sees. Each editor is responsible for laying out his or her own section.

5. On Monday and Tuesday, have the editors scramble to get last minute quotes or pictures to fill holes on the pages, and Tuesday after school, make sure everything in the paper is good.

6. Finally, have Ms. Bielong link all of the pages together and send them to the printer. The paper is then delivered to the school Thursday after school.

7. On Friday, let the staff wear their Hy News t-shirts to school, and cheerfully pass papers out to students as they enter the building.

8. Repeat steps 1-7 ten more times.

Turn to Page One

The Student Literary and Art Magazine

Below: The Page One art staff meets to dicuss the art pieces entered this year. They were going through all of the piece and deciding which of them to publish.

Page One is Belleville West's student literary and visual art magazine. The magazine accepts prose, poetry, and art submissions created by students at all grade levels. The purpose of Page One is to promote creative thinking among the student body and to provide an outlet for creativity.

A student magazine staff selects all of the pieces that appear in the magazine. When submissions are evaluated, the panel does not know the name of the writer or artist. This ensures fairness in the selection process.

Each year the Page One staff, paired with the Hy News staff, hosts a trivia night to raise funds. These funds help Page One to sell the magazine at a low cost. The magazine is available for purchase in the spring of each year.

The Page One staff also works with the librarians to host the National Day of Writing, held each fall, and the Poetry Cafe, held each spring. Page One has received First Place with Special Merit from the National Scholastic Press Assosciation for the past seven years.

Right: Lauren Case, senior, observes as her blood is drawn. Students had stress balls in their hands to get their blood flowing more strongly, so the process would be quicker.

Bottom Far Right: Junior Megan Linskey smils for the camera as she has her blood drawn. She was one of the more relaxed students giving blood.

Bottom Middle: Senior Ryan Kilroy looks away from the needle as the nurse takes his blood. Unlike Megan, Ryan was a bit more nervous and anxious about the blood-giving process.

Bottom Left: Senior Sean McCall watches as the nurse puts on his needle. He said, "I felt the nurse put the needle in the first time, but she didn't get it in the proper way, so she had to remove it. Basically, I had to be stuck with the needle twice. The second time, however, it worked, so I was able to give blood and help save three lives." Sometimes, since everyone has different veins, it is difficult for the nurse to spot or easily stick an arm. Often, it takes just one try, but sometimes, it may take two.

West Serves Community

National Honor Society Annual Blood Drive

National Honor Society participates in the Gingerbread Walk, Race for Character, Adopt a Pet, and Adopt an Angel. NHS candidates volunteered at the Blood Drive as a community service project. The main benefit of the drive is to contribute much needed blood donations to the American Red Cross, which serves area hospitals and trauma centers. The NHS hopes to encourage students to donate regularly.

Students that chose to donate were screened for health and lifestyle history, endured the dreaded finger stick to verify a normal iron count, and waited for a donation chair to become vacant. The donation process is relatively painless – only a needle stick into the arm, taking less than 15 minutes. Donors were treated to snacks before they returned to class.

In this blood drive alone, Belleville West students donated 173 units of blood, which will save 519 lives. Each pint of blood is separated into three common components: plasma, which is used for burn victims; red blood cells, which carry oxygen to vital organs and tissues, and platelets, which encourage clotting. Both the NHS workers and the student donors were aware of the impact of the Blood Drive. "Working this blood drive has taught me how lucky people that are healthy are, and how more people should donate blood to help those that are not," said NHS worker and Senior, David Hermerding. According to Junior Kyle McCullough "I like to donate blood whenever I can, because I know that I am helping save the lives of three people." Hopefully students who donated this year will come back to donate again, and spread the word.

Say it Out Loud

The Speech and Acting Team

For years, the apeech and acting team has performed its way to becoming the perennial powerhouse in southern Illinois. This year, the team's goal was to take another step to being considered a powerhouse in the state. That is exactly what they accomplished.

Looking at the regular season, there were some concerns about doing well at state. The team lost its first tournament to rival Carbondale by four points. The team bounced back, however, and won its next two tournaments. At Regionals, Belleville West advanced all 14 events to Sectionals as well as their Performance in the Round (PIR). The team then advanced ten events plus the PIR to the State Tournament in Peoria where they broke every school record. In previous years, the team has never finished in the top five as a team. This year, led by strong performances from seniors Shay Berry and Matt Ingram and juniors Eli Bernstein and Vondell Burns, the team finished fourth overall. They also broke the record for number of finalists, previously three and now five. Vondell Burns broke in both events and amazingly finishing second in both.

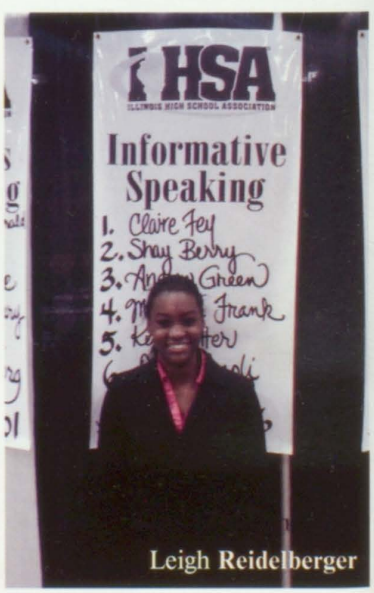

Senior Emily Woods will be competing for a remarkable honor of being the first student from Belleville West to earn a trip to Nationals for every year of high school. "Out of about three thousands competitors at the National tournament, only about 150-200 students can say that they have competed in this tournament for four years. It is an amazing accomplishment from an amazing and talented performer," explained coaches Mr. Adam Jenkins and Russell Reidelberger about Woods.

Preparing for next season will take the Belleville West Speech and Acting Team one step closer to being that powerhouse, not just in the south, but in the entire state.

Can You Feel the Madnezz?

Belleville West Pep Club

The roar of a suspense filled crowd as the wide receiver swifts past the defense and gets that touchdown that wins us the game! The 250 student body participants that take part in Maroon Madnezz, West's pep club, experience this blood raising experience at every football and basketball game.

To help get the enthusiasm of the student body started Mr. Witt, the Maroon Madnezz sponsor, holds a tailgate before every home football game. At these tailgates you can grab a hotdog from our "Grill Master" Mitch Ettling or some drinks to feed your energy. Supporters can hang out and listen to music to get pumped for the the game.

To give honor to every good thing West does Maroon Madness supports them with cheers. During football games whenever we make touchdowns we will have Maroon Madnezz participants run across the track with flags that spell out W.E.S.T. During basketball games we will do spirit fingers whenever West has free throw shooters up. Maroon Madness has their infamous "I Believe" cheer that gives support to our players to keep their hopes of victory up. Maroon Madnezz is a great pep club that supports their team and the opposing teams with great pride.

Having a student body with such great pride is what makes Maroon Madnezz so great. The Board of Education presented Maroon Madnezz with an award for their outstanding team spirit, sportsmanship and support for their West teams. This recognition helps Maroon Madnezz grow stronger and work hard as a group.

Madnezz members always show their support and determination for their school even in the hallways of West. This courage and determination is what makes West student body one of the best student bodies and keeps our school driving to excellence.

Mrs. Lewis is just one of the many dedicated faces of this group.

As the old man walked the beach at dawn, he noticed a young man ahead of him picking up starfish and flinging them in to the sea. Finally catching up with the youth, he asked him why he was doing this. The answer was that the stranded starfish would die if left until the morning sun.

But the beach goes on for miles and there are millions of starfish," countered the other. "How can your effort make any difference?"

The young man looked at the starfish in his hand and then threw it to the safety in the waves. "It makes a difference to this one," he said.

BW STARS

Student Assistance and Referral Team

The STAR team is a program designed to assist students succeed in high school. Many students face problems that go beyond academics; they may need assistance in social dynamics, family dynamics, peer pressure, and even school environment.

At West, the STAR team membership consists of faculty who give their time selflessly to the cause of assisting students referred by the rest of the staff. A few times per semester, the entire faculty has the opportunity to send in referrals to the team, so that new students can be added. STAR also has a drop-box where a teacher can do that at any point in the school year.

On average, the STAR team assists 250 students a year. Sally Stephens states, "this year, year we carried over 66 files from last year and continued to work with them and by this time of year we have also had about 180-200 new referrals." STAR team faculty then get a case load that averages seven to ten students. Teachers then meet with these students on a regular basis during their off hours. The STAR team also has regular monthly meetings in which faculty members get updates on their students' grades and performance school-wide.

STAR faculty also meet with their students one-on-one during this time.

As Mrs. Stephens says about the STAR team, "I could not even begin to calculate the hours my team puts in; in some cases, it is truly a second job but with no pay only gratification of success from the kids they work so hard for. These are truly loyal, dedicated, and hard woking individuals that love kids and thrive on seeing them succeed."

The STAR team's name comes from a poem about a man who saves starifish on a beach by throwing them back into the water. When told that he could not possibly save all the starfish on the beach, the man in the poem responds by saying "It made a difference to that one."

Tackeling to the Top

A Note Worthy Season

The varsity football team dominated their opponents for the most part this past fall. They started off with three strong wins against Highland, Althoff, and Collinsville that marked the determination and focus of the season.

Although the team lost a lot of seniors last year, they managed to overcome the losses and challenges by concentrating on a new first string.

With seniors Sedrick Spillers, Josh Enskat, Luke Piot, and Zac Pegues, Garrett Reno, Dario Braun among many others, the face of the varsity football team changed drastically, but their continued effort to improve their game was apparent.

This season, West also entered into the IHSA playoffs. They played a good game, but they lost to Belleville East with a score 13-21 and East Saint Louis.

West finished the season with 2236 total rush yards, 160 total points,and 22 offensive touchdowns.

Coach Ric Johns has continuously strived to establish a strong football program in his four years at West. His play strategy is just one of the many assets he brings to the Might Maroons. The Maroons continue to excel at the school's most publicized sport. The team continues to work during the off-season to get ready for next year.

Cheer for Victory! Cheer for Unity!

Cheerleaders Become a Family

The young women of the Belleville West Varsity Football Cheerleading squad cheer not only for the football team, but also for the spirit of togetherness. 21 different girls came together at the start of the school year to do what they love-cheering on the Varsity Football Team. "We began with 21 girls, and ended with 21 girls. Everyone kept their heads up, even if we lost," said Tori Martinez, junior. Not only do cheerleaders need dedication to stick through the season, but she must also be optimistic. "A cheerleader should have spirit and enthusiasm at all times. But a good attitude and perseverance are also a major part," said Jessica Weis, sophomore.

enthusiasm at all times. But a good attitude and perseverance are also a major part," said Jessica Weis, sophomore.

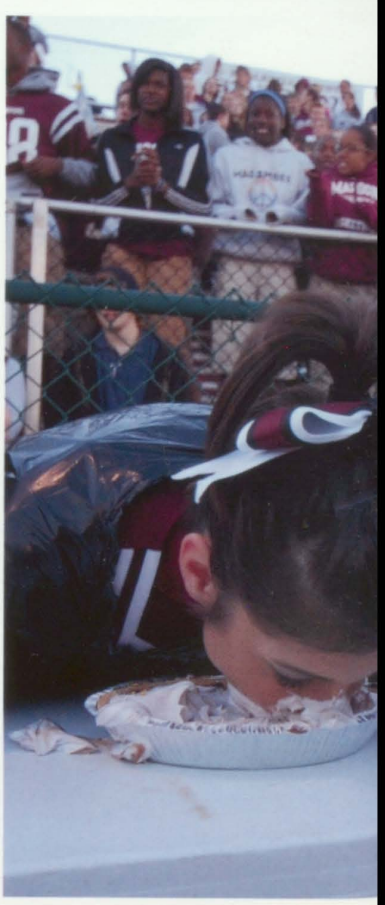

Also, the girls have fun performing their sport. During the football games, the girls do several different cheers to rally the crowd, and push on the football team. The girls even go as far as to do pushups, right on the track. When asked what her favorite thing about cheering was, junior Jessi Hoff said, "What I like most about cheering is that I can forget about anything else that is going on and just be happy."

Finally, the girls participated in a number of charity events. "We took part in an event along with the East and Althoff cheerleaders to raise awareness for cancer. We also cheered at the SWIC breast cancer walk. To raise money for breast cancer, we sold 'Cheer for the Cure' t-shirts, had a bake sale, and carried coin jars around school," said Josi Gass, sophomore. By sticking together as a team, the BW cheerleaders accomplished their goals within West, and the community.

Setting Up for Victory

Overcoming Challenges

This year's Mighty Maroons Girls Golf team has had an amazing season. They placed 6th in the Southwest Conference Tournament and 13th place at Champaign Centennial Invitation. Newly joined golfers, one senior, and a new head coach led them to such success.

"I feel like this year was very successful for the girls golf team, and we were all very proud of everyone." said varsity captain, Courtney Click. As the only senior on the team me sad to know that I was leaving all the underclass girls."

"As the head coach I am in change of planning practices, arranging travel plans, coordinating team gear and other logistical jobs that I did not deal with as an assistant." said the new head coach, Coach Souders. With the retirement of Coach Baldus, qualified Coach Souders took her new position as head coach. She has played golf all her life. During high school, her golf team qualified for State freshman through junior year. My senior year she qualified as an individual for State. She also played for two years at John A. Logan College.

Courtney Click will be graduation this year and plans to go off to college this fall and get all her schooling done. "I'm not so sure if I am going to play golf during college, but the option is always there." Coach Souders hopes that the girls get a lot of practice for the next season by participating in the summer camps. This year was a great year for the girl golfers and next year will even better.

Hitting the Green

Boys Golf

Closing the season with 4-8 record, the Maroon's Boys Golf team had a successful year considering the circumstances. Over the last few years, the boys golf team has lost most of its upperclassman strength. "Having [only] three seniors and two juniors, we did lack leadership," said junior Michael Cox, "but golf is more of an individual sport than a team [sport]."

The golf team started practice early in the summer; while most students relaxed, nine dedicated varsity players took to the green to practice their strokes. Often seen as a sport decreasing in popularity, Cox rebutted that," I love golf and [although it is decreasing in popularity] those who play it still appreciate the sport." Most members including senior John Johnson and Cox started playing at a very young age, becoming involved thanks to family members.

Johnson had yet another extremely successful season; he qualified for regionals but missed a trip to state by one stroke. Still his biggest accomplishment of the season was hitting a hole in one at the Pekin Invitational Tournament. "It was about the wildest thing that every happened to me," exclaimed Johnson.

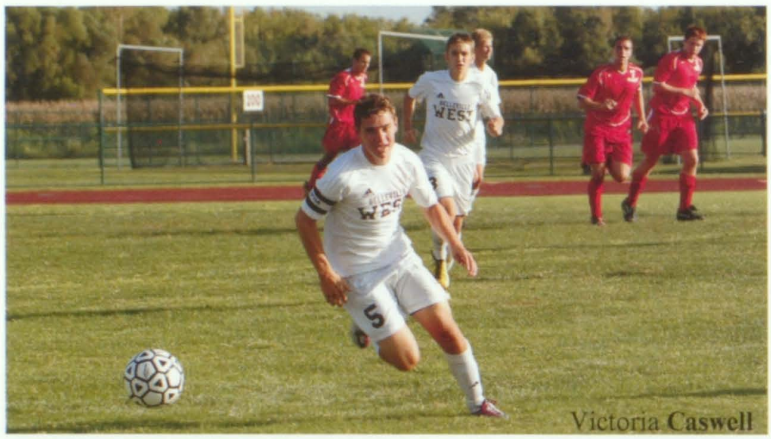

Although the team will be loosing three seniors: Alex Donnelly, David Petrie, and John Johnson, the team has a lot of young talent that will hopefully strengthen throughout the off-season and have a more successful season next year.

Coming Together to Win

The 2010 boys' soccer team, under coach Thornberry, had a good season ending with a score of 6-8. They worked hard and improved a lot this season. While the team might not have won every game, each individual member has vastly improved their part of the whole.

The boys really focused on perfecting their positions during the 2010 season, which helped the team coordinate better. Each one greatly improved on staying in their space and knowing when to push forward and when to pull back. The boys were asked if they thought they had mastered their positions; all of them said something like, "No. No matter how good you get at your position, there is always room for improvement."

Team members commented that they were glad to be able to continue to play soccer, and hope to be able to play throughout the collegiate level. Junior Dominique Caponi said, "I really love playing soccer. I hope that when I go off to college a school will offer me a scholarship to play for them." Others simply said that their favorite part of playing soccer at West was getting to play against the other school's highly competitive teams.

The team had a lot of drive and energy on and off the field, whether they were running laps, doing drills, or improving on playing their position, they were just glad to be a part of the whole. The boys who will be returning next year are disappointed to be losing the seniors: Davon Bauer, Torrence Brown, Sean McCall, Brad Sedlak, Scott Segobiano, Taylor Siebors, Jarrett Smith, Kyle Yocks. However, they are continuing to train for next year and planning on being even better.

Running to Victory

On the Fast Track to Success

Many people wouldn't even think about getting up early on a Saturday morning to run 3 miles, but the Belleville West cross country team would disagree. They endure vigorous practices every day after school to compete on those Saturday mornings.

While having to run 3 miles over rough terrain may be difficult, the cross country team overcomes the challenge. Team member Sam Glaeser said, "It's a challenge racing 3 miles, but in the end it's rewarding to know that you finished and did your best." "Probably the hardest part is training at the beginning of the season. But the end of a race is the best feeling in the world. Every time still feels like an accomplishment. I also love our pre-match ritual," said Haley Horton.

The ritual previously referred to is called a Pasta Party. The runners all meet at someone's house before a match. Each member brings with them a pasta dish. It may seem strange but running 3 miles requires a lot of carbohydrates, which the pasta provides. But probably even better than the food, at these pasta parties, is the conversation and bonding. "We have all become closer as a team, by the best way possible, over food," said Haley. But there is a lot more to cross country than just the team.

Individual improvement is a big part of cross country. Each person striving to beat their personal best again and again until they finally achieve victory. A few particular students have showed massive improvement from previous years. One student, Freshman Jennifer Combs' time has improved 3 minutes since running a 5K in late May. Also Austin Lawrence's time improved one minute placing him on Varsity this year. Nathan Gonzalaz said, "I played soccer freshmen year and then joined cross country my sophomore year. I've shaved 40 seconds off my time since last year. I've gotten a lot tougher both physically and mentally. Most people don't realize that cross country is only 5% skill, 10% practice and hard work, and 85% mental strength. Running with Shane Blick really helped."

The cross country team has had a good season this year. The boys' team is very strong, finishing in the top 5 for most of their matches. After they finished first in the city meet the coaches feel they have a good chance of sending the boys to sectionals. The girls' team has also done well finishing second in the city meet. We look forward to how they will improve next year, and are sad to be losing our seniors.

Serving Up Victory

Belleville West Girls Tennis show Mighty Maroon spirit

Each year, the Belleville West Girls Tennis Team serves up a heaping helping of victory. The Tennis team had an especially spectacular 2010 season. One highlight of the season was Senior Allison Chadwick and Junior Kelcie Comley coming first in doubles during their first tournament in Champaign, Illinois. Chadwick said, "Kelcie and I also beat Columbia Rockbridge in doubles, their first and only loss all season."

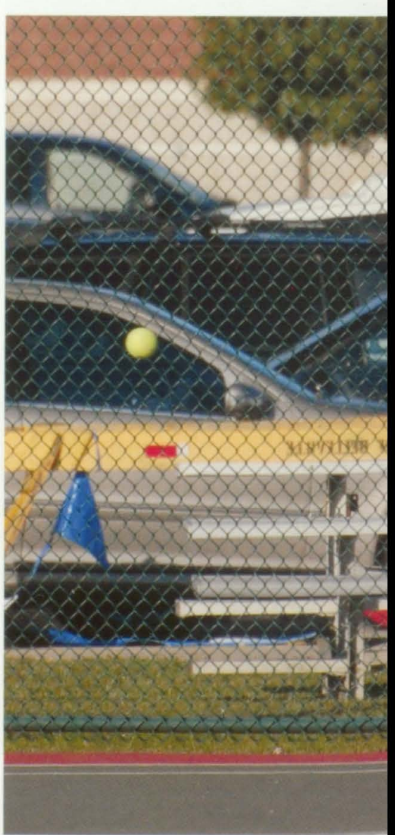

The girls tore through the season and eventually made it to sectionals. "All the girls wanted to make it to state." Chadwick said, "Then, at sectionals, Laura Knysak (Junior) defeated the number three seed to qualify for state and Chelsea Pierce (junior) defeated the number four seed in long, heated 3rd set tiebreaker that they had to finish later at Belleville East."

The tennis girls' talent and hard work paid off as they traveled on to state. "I was so proud," Chadwick boasted, "having all six of our girls go to state hasn't happened since my Freshmen year.

The competition at state, however, was hard to beat. "Kelcie and I moved up the the top sixteen at state." Chadwick said, "but our other girls had tough first and second round matches. The next day, Kelcie and I could tell the girls we faced were in the top sixteen for a reason. We lost our next two rounds to very worthy opponents." The tennis girls showed Mighty Maroon pride every with every valiant battle fought.

Unity Leads to Victory

Girls Volleyball is Full of Team Spirit

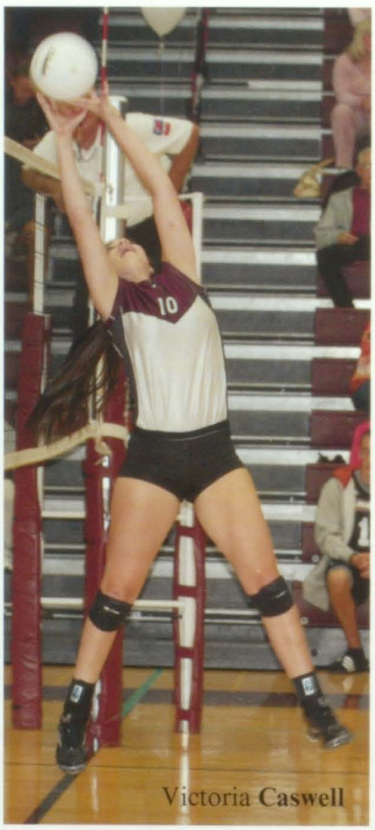

In just one season, a diverse group of eleven girls became a family on the Belleville West Varsity Girls Volleyball team. Every day, the girls try their hardest at their sport, by participating in daily practices and weekly games. During practices, the girls all work together as a team to improve each other's performance, whether it's blocking, spiking or achieving a victory. The team is comprised of girls from the senior, junior and sophomore classes. Captains senior Amanda Hobbs and senior Taylor Albrecht lead the team, while juniors Emily Becker, Bennet Dibadj, Katie Lanxon, Taylor Lundy, Molly Magnusen, Randi Mehrmann, and Renae Shield love to play the game while sophomores Taylor Puuri and Sara Stevenson await next year until they are upperclassmen.

The Volleyball team had an overall good season, traveling hours away to compete at the regional tournament. Mehrmann said, "All of our hard work payed off. We made it all the way to regionals; no one expected us to achieve that." Hopefully the Maroons Varsity Volleyball team will have more exciting seasons to come.

Slamming Home a Victory

Boys Basketball

The 2010-2011 boys basketball team had a successful season this winter. The boy's basketball team had a great season full of layups, free throws, and plenty of swishes. They won most of their games and worked really hard throughout the season.

They looked great during all of their games winning by quite a bit when they did win; and even when the team didn't win they were only a few points behind the opponent.

The team did well at many of their tournaments, sometimes they did extremely well such as at the Belleville East Tournament. They demolished the competition to become the tournament champs!

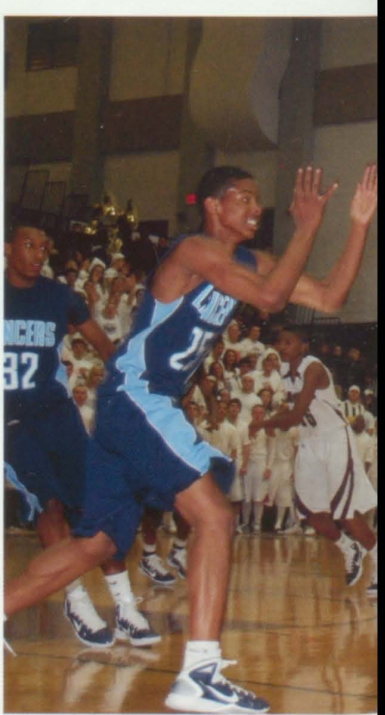

Unfortunately seniors Dylan Chatman, guard, and Kane Sweeney, forward, are graduating this year and the team is sad to see them go. They wish them luck as they go off to college, as do we. And we wish the team luck for next year. We hope to see the team do just as good next year if not better.

Competitive Cheerleading

Going to competitions is the most exciting aspect of cheerleading. Walking through the curtain onto the competition floor is one of the best feeling in the wiorld. The feeling of cheer butterflies in your stomach, the insane adredaline rush and having a mental break block because you forgot the routine is the perfect way to begin your competition routine in front of millions of people. Competion this year was a rough beginning accomidated wit ha successful end.

At ICCA sectionals we placed fourth, and at IHSA sectionals we made top 5 placing fourth out of 15 teams. IHSA stat e was the grand finally. We didn't do as well as we hoped, but we made it though after losing a total of 9 people throughout the season.

This year five seniors will be graduating this year. Kailey Ackermann, Nicole Bonfiglio,Olivia Dosier, Alyssa Ferry, and Kelli LePes. They led the team to success from start to finish. We will miss them next year but hope for a great season anyway.

Passing with Perfection

Girls Basketball

The girls basketball team along with the guidance and assistance of Coaches Moore, Betz, Fisher, and Watkins brought in another strong season for the team.

This year's team had a strong leadership board. The team was led by three strong, athletic seniors: Rejae Davis, Ashley Wilson, and Erika McCaster. These three ladies encouraged the team in both practices and games to perform at their highest potential. With such a strong leadership of both coaches and players, this basketball team won quite a few games. They even beat the inner-district rival, Belleville East by a lead of eight points. It was a close match.

Rejae Davis states, "I think we had a great season. We won regionals and got first place in the Mount Zion tournament earlier in the season. Winning regionals was an amazing feeling especially after beating Belleville East for the third time and finally beating O'Fallon."

The girls basketball team will lose their strong senior leaders next year, but they will continue to perform at their peak as they get reading for next year.

Knocking Them All Down!

Team Improvement Ends In Victory!

This year the bowling team continued to improve on their individual scores, on the team's total score, and on the team's unity. The first thing every bowler needed to do was work on their individual score. And that is done by picking your spares! In fact Coach Erlich's motto is, "Pick your spares." That's the best way to get a good score, and everyone worked really hard on picking their spares this year.

The team also worked on improving the team's overall score. They did this by cheering one another on and having each other's backs. Junior Paige Shackelford said, "My favorite part of bowling is the pressure and being competitive with the best bowler on the lane next to you. Once my game is on I don't want that feeling to stop, I just get the urge to get the team pumped just as much as I am." The cheering really helped the team do better overall.

Also the fact that the team unity was stronger this year really helped. Just knowing your teammates have your back no matter how badly you bowl made everyone want to bowl better so that the team would win. It was all about the team overall not just yourself. "There were a few times that the team got together to do stuff. I think that getting together outside of the bowling alley helps the team feel closer and do better during difficult matches," said Sophomore Kelsey Kelly.

The team knocked down all the pins and all of the competition as well, ending as the conference champs.

2010 Conference Champions

This year's wrestling team was the culmination of years of hardwork, dedication, and great coaching. For the first time in fifteen years the Illinois Southwestern Conference Wrestling Championship went to Belleville West. This was an exciting victory for both the team and the coaches.

Coaches Al Sears, Joe Rujawitz, Chris Hanusek, and Paul Viglasky have spent the past four years building and mentoring the members of this year's squad, and it has really paid off. Not only did the varsity squad put their best efforts forth, but the freshmen and junior varsity squads did the same.

Senior captains Dustin Ventimiglia (3rd) and Dylon Viglasky (5th) were state qualifers this year along with senior Dominique Hardy and sophomore captain, Mech Spraggins (2nd).

Through the development of the wrestling program, the team acquired a new spotlight which is used during varsity meets. Also, they received pull-up bars and tackling bodies.

The team will continue to improve for next year's season.

Dance, Dance, Dance!

Dance Team has a Fun Season

Some may wonder what the Belleville West Dance Team is about. The girls on the dance team perform at half time with a variety of routines, such as "Fire in Your New Shoes" by Kaskade, and a mash up of Eminem songs. The Dance Team participated in three competitions, qualifiying at the state level.

This year's theme was princessess. "We each had a princess that we feel represents us. Also, an underlying theme for our dances was that with all the raw talent, we made the BW Dance Team better than ever," said senior Kirstianna Lombardi.

In the few moments before the end of the second quarter, the girls wish each other luck. The Dance Team is not just a group of dancing girls, but a tight knit family that undertake what they do best- dance.

Part of the Whole

Bellevinois

Colophon

Bellevinois 2011, Vol. 95, "Part of the Whole," was published in May by Balfour Publishing, Dallas, TX where the plant produced 1,100 copies. For the first time in several years, Bellevinois sold out of all of its presale books. A total of 790 people purchased books during the presale. Smart-Pay handled all of these early sales. The book cost $54.65 dollars in advance and $60.00 dollars at distribution. "Part of the Whole"is a 9" by 12" sewn book contaning 256 pages, rounded and backed with color through out. Every summer, the staff goes to a camp sponsored by Balfour Publishing in Carterville, IL. There, the staff developed the ladder, theme, cover, and endsheets. Cover artist, Jim Eldridge, brought the theme to life in a simple and modern design. The staff starts working in early June to late May to complete the yearbook. Work days are every Wednesday from 3:30 to 6:30, and during deadline weeks, the staff works on Sundays from 12:00 to 3:00. The book would not have been successful without the guidance of our Balfour representative, Jim Hawkinson. The stories were all handled by the staff and guest reporters from the Belleville West student body. Almost all photos were taken by Victoria Caswell and other members of the student body/faculty. LifeTouch provided group shots for music, athletics, and clubs. The yearbook staff consumed over 152 pizzas, over 40 sandwiches, and at least 12 containers of chicken fried rice. This yearbook could not have been published without the special aid of Hershey's Dunkers from Pizza Hut.
